
Negative values favor adaptation. Correlated prefixes and unknown base pretraining; no population or physical-calibration claim.